NEW UPGRADE VERSION

Microsoft Encarta '95

The New Way to Know.

When it comes to the pursuit of knowledge, there isn't a better, more dynamic way than the Microsoft Encarta multimedia encyclopedia, 1995 Edition. Encarta has powerful tools to help you locate facts, research topics, and browse through a rich world of multimedia information. Updated annually by Encarta's editorial staff working with authorities in every field, Encarta '95 offers more than 26,000 fully updated articles.

• Through the power of multimedia, Encarta '95 brings information alive like no other encyclopedia. More than 100 videos and animations, ranging from the elections in South Africa to cell division, explain complex events simply and clearly. More than nine hours of sounds enrich articles about animals, music, history, literature, and more.

• The new, unique Pinpointer search tool finds the information you need quickly and easily. Look up any article in a single step. Or research a topic by defining search criteria such as word, time, place, category, or media. For example, enter "Music, America, 1950–65, with Pictures and/or Audio included," and the Pinpointer will quickly present related articles—choose Chuck Berry and start learning.

- What's New in Encarta '95:
  - More than 10,000 articles reviewed and updated
  - More than 300 completely new articles
  - Now more than 9.5 hours of audio
  - New videos of recent events
  - New Pinpointer search tool

Microsoft Bookshelf '94

The New Way to Look it Up.

Microsoft Bookshelf® '94 redefines reference, with lightning-fast searches, easy access to information, and rich sound, video, and animation. Simply put, the Bookshelf CD-ROM reference library is the new way to look it up!

• Bookshelf '94 includes updated versions of The American Heritage Dictionary, The Original Roget's Thesaurus, The Columbia Dictionary of Quotations, The Concise Columbia Encyclopedia, Hammond Intermediate World Atlas, The People's Chronology, and The World Almanac® and Book of Facts 1994.

• Bookshelf '94 brings reference material to life—complete with more than 60 animations and video clips of historic events. You'll be amazed by all you hear—more than 80,000 spoken pronunciations; 40 audio clips of John F. Kennedy, Dylan Thomas, and others; and more than 160 national anthems. You'll also find 230 flags and more than 160 maps. And automatic links quickly take you to related topics throughout Bookshelf '94.

Working in another application? The QuickShelf feature takes you into Bookshelf—and finds the information you need—with a single mouse click.

• Now you can spend your time using information rather than looking it up. Bookshelf '94 makes it easier to search seven reference books in seconds for just the information you need. You can even copy and paste images, text, or audio into documents. And if you're working in another application, the QuickShelf™ information retrieval tool takes you into Bookshelf—and finds the information you need, such as synonyms, quotes, and facts—with a single mouse click.

• Bookshelf boosts your word processor by giving you more than your existing thesaurus and dictionary. It's a far richer resource crammed with multimedia sounds, images, and animations. All of which can be accessed with a single click.

"How the Leopard Got His Spots"

An Interactive Storytelling Adventure for Kids Ages 4 to 9.

P.J. Rabbit™ is your child's guide into the informative and imaginative world of Rudyard Kipling's captivating story, "How the Leopard Got His Spots." The story is narrated by Danny Glover, but kids can also read at their own pace. Difficult words and phrases are defined and the text of the story is highlighted to help early readers improve their vocabulary and reading abilities.

There are always new surprises, as well. Click through the story and discover surprise animations and silly sounds. Put together a puzzle. Paint the animals in the forest zany colors in the "Paint the Forest" game. Or play games like "Music Matches" or Mancala, the classic African stone game.

Explore P.J. Rabbit's hole, where kids can read animated picture books about the author and learn about what it's like to be a child in South Africa. Illustrated by Lori Lohstoeter and with music by Ladysmith Black Mambazo, "How the Leopard Got His Spots" is a beautiful, enchanting, and fun story that all kids should read and learn about.

Explore Gahan Wilson's Ultimate Haunted House, 13 rooms oozing with creeps, ghosts, monsters, and ghouls. Enter at your own risk!

Gahan Wilson, America's master of the macabre, created this fantastic game. You're trapped inside a haunted house and you must search the 13 rooms of the house to find the 13 missing keys before time runs out. Along the way, you'll meet a cast of characters, some who will help you, others who can trick you! Visit the animals in the Menagerie, but heed the warning and don't feed the fish! Try cooking up a ghastly stew in the Kitchen or play a most unusual organ in the Music room. Visit the Wreck room and try to trap your next victim, or catch up on some fabulous film clips in the Screening room. You can also build your own incredible monster in the Monster Lab and bring it to life with the laser. But beware: Your creation can turn on you! It doesn't matter how often you play Gahan Wilson's Ultimate Haunted House, you never get the same game twice.
